AMERICAN REVOLUTION. Joint Meeting to Commemorate Wash-

ington's Birthday. Services in commemoration of the birth of the first President of the Union were held yesterday afternoon at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, under the joint auspices of the societies of the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution. The church was crowded to the dcors and many were turned away, unable to obtain admission. The French ambassador was present by special invitation, accompanied by several members of the embers.

Seats had been reserved in the front of the church for the members of the two so-cieties, and at the appointed hour they entered in procession to the music of the "March Religeuse," played by the Marine Band, which was stationed in the south gallery. On the platform were seated Vice President Stevenson, Rev. John R. Paxton, D.D., of the New York Society of the Sons of the Revolution, Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D.D.; Rev. Thomas D. Childs, D.D., and Mr. William Van Zandt Cox, who acted as chairman chairman.

The services were opened by the audience singing "Old Hundred." Dr. Radcliffe invoked divine blessings on the audience and the societies. Thanks were given to God for raising up Washington in the time of the country's need. The President, senaors and judges were also remembered. "He Watching Over Israel" was sung by the church choir, after which Dr. Childs read appropriate selections from the Scrip-ture. The congregation sang a hymn, and the Marine Band played Massenet's "Ange-

A Runaway Marriage Turns Out All Right and the Young People are Forgiven.

Debate at Georgetown College for the Merrick Medal-Other Interesting Items.

A romantic runaway and marriage among two well-known young people of this section of the city has just come to light, and the parents have learned, forgiven and blessed the truant pair. The groom is Mr. David E. Graves, a popular young man, who lives on 32d street, and the bride, Miss Moneta Thomas, the daughter of Mr. Columbus Thomas of 35th street, a well-known contractor and builder. The young people have known each other for many years, and it was a settled thing that they were going to get married in the spring, but they took time by the forelock and ran away to get married. Last Wednesday morning the young man met the nesday morning the young man met the young lady, and together they took the 11 o'clock train for Baltimore. After reaching that city they went to the house of some friends, and later called upon Rev. Dr. J. M. Slarrow, the pastor of a Baltimore M. E. Church, where they were united in the bonds of matrimony. The couple intended to come to Washington early in the evening, but missed a train and came over later than anticipated. The young man left his sweetheart at her home and went to his own home, but the next day the parents of the young lady her home and went to his own home, but the next day the parents of the roung lady got wind of the affair, and finally she told all. She was forgiven, and the husband sent for, receiving the best wishes of the parents of the bride. The newly married couple will begin housekeeping in the northeast section of the city.
